

French Wine Adventures

Personalised wine tours and exclusive experiences

How to get to French Wine Adventures Headquarters

French Wine Adventures is about 75 km east of Bordeaux (international airport), and four hours from Paris by train. There are frequent high-speed trains (TGV) leaving for Bordeaux from Montparnasse station in Paris and there is at least one TGV per day direct from Charles de Gaulle airport to Bordeaux. Some TGV Bordeaux trains stop in Libourne (one stop before Bordeaux) which saves you time, otherwise continue on to Bordeaux. We are 15 mins west of Bergerac airport with flights from many UK airports. If you are from the UK or flying via the UK this is the best option.

To meet us in Saussignac at our HQ

If you are coming out to French Wine Adventures HQ at Chateau Haut Garrigue then from Bordeaux (St. Jean station) or Libourne take a local TER train in the direction Bergerac / Sarlat and get off at Gardonne.

If you are travelling by plane, you can ask your travel agent to book your flight with final destination being Bordeaux airport or Bergerac airport. The round trip air ticket between Paris and Bordeaux usually costs less than a round trip train ticket when booked as part of a larger ticket. From Bordeaux airport take the jet bus (shuttle bus) to Gare (Station) St. Jean then take the local train to Gardonne. If you are staying with us or in Saussignac or coming here for a day tour we will meet you at Gardonne station.

To meet us in St Emilion

If we are meeting in St Emilion then make getting off at Libourne a priority as it saves you a connection. By taxi Libourne station to a hotel in St Emilion will only be 10 minutes and should cost around €35 including luggage normal hours. Coming from Bordeaux airport follow directions below but get off at Libourne. Ask your hotel to book you a taxi if you are overnighiting as there may not be taxis in the taxi rank at Libourne particularly in the evening.

You can travel to St Emilion on the TER train from Bordeaux where we can meet you. The station is just 1km from the village so if you decide to arrive the night before it is easy to walk upto the village if you don't have much luggage.

Train Information:

Visit the French Railway Website, <http://www.sncf.com> or to book online from abroad www.voyages-sncf.com under the heading Planning Your Journey/France and Abroad/Time Table, to check on exact train schedules. For the TGV only visit www.tgv.com

Details for departure and arrival are:

if you leave from (or go to) Paris = Paris (Montparnasse 1 train station) <--> Libourne (Connecting station) <--> Gardonne

if you leave from (or go to) Charles de Gaulle airport = Aeoroport CDG 2 (Charles de Gaulle airport) <--> Libourne (Connecting station) <-->Gardonne

From Bordeaux Airport, take the Jetbus (Airport Shuttle) to Gare St. Jean in Bordeaux. Get the train going to Sarlat/ Bergerac and get off at Gardonne. A bientot!